Hello LG leaders,

I trust you are having a great summer. Summer is such a great opportunity to connect at a deeper level with your members. Look for creative ways to do that.

1. Go through the New City Catechism for this week (#34).
2. Take a look at Psalm 119:113-120. Read it to yourself. What part of the passage speaks to you? Share with your group.
3. What are some of the difficult passages you have encountered in the Bible? Share with the group. How did you process them? Did you investigate to find the meaning? Did you sweep it under a rug and ignore it?
4. In the sermon 8 suggestions were given to help deal with difficult teachings in the bible. Have you employed any of them? How have they helped you? Which one, in particular, do you find most helpful to do and why?
5. How do you reconcile God's command to love all peoples and even our enemies with a verse like this that says that he hates double-minded people?
6. Which part of the sermon best helped you, if at all, to understand this difficult passage?
7. Why is it that a misunderstanding of doctrine leads us to a misunderstanding of many of these difficult passages? What can we do to strengthen and solidify our doctrinal understanding of the bible and the doctrinal formation of our worldview?
8. Go back to the difficult teaching that you shared earlier. If the issue is still not settled, how will you go about obtaining a better Biblical understanding of it? Share and then pray for one another.
